

ABSTRACT

A combined animal information tag and system comprising a relatively permanent primary information tag attached directly to the animal to provide 5 primary information about the animal and a removable or replaceable supplemental identification or informational tag attached to the primary information tag to provide additional information about the animal.